Team Lead - Senior Analyst

A self-motivated and analytical Team Lead with 3+ years of experience in Private Capital Data analytics. Strong communication skills and teamwork along with my technical ability enabled me to effectively collaborate with others to improve business procedures.

My strong passion for helping others paired with high standards of quality has contributed to the development of a high-performance locally based team within the South African Private Capital Data Operations department. My desire to constantly improve current procedures combined with my technical ability has allowed me to develop and enhance numerous reporting mechanisms, improving overall data quality and product value as a whole.

I believe my unique skillset combined with my experience and passion to help others will allow me to support your continued organizational success.
